

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A receiving module receives print jobs from outside. A storing module stores the print jobs received by the receiving module. A printing module
5 implements the print job stored by the storing module. A controlling module discriminates whether or not the print jobs received by the receiving module include special print jobs and controls implementation of printing done by the printing module.

10026721.042202